MINISTER'S LETTER

Dear Friends,

'I was a stranger and you welcomed me' Matthew 25

As a young subaltern in the Black Watch I came to love the Reel of 51st Highland Division. Throughout the dance there is a real sense of welcome as dancers are constantly being introduced to one another. The last welcome is as heartfelt as the first.

At St Cuthbert's we have a wonderful team of volunteer guides ready and eager to welcome visitors throughout the season. I am sure the welcomes later in the Autumn will be as good as those in this Spring.

Within the life of the church the first welcome is administered at baptism and traditionally the font used to be placed just inside the door. It would be the first thing a visitor would see on entering the sanctuary.

We all have a vital role to play in the task of welcoming the stranger into our midst for in so doing we surely have the privilege of welcoming Christ himself.

May a St Cuthbert's welcome be at the heart of all we do.

God Bless

Peter

EDITORIAL

Welcome to the April/May edition of St Cuthbert's Church magazine, the first edited by myself. I would like to thank my predecessor Mary Wilson for her diligent work over the last 13 years and to Peter Sutton and the team for producing the last couple of editions.

Let me introduce myself. I have been a member of St Cuthbert's for many years. I worked in finance for over 30 years, and for some time, worked in the large office which stands on the site of St Cuthbert's former mission hall at Castlebarns in Morrison Street. I am not totally new to the Magazine as some of you may remember me from having written a few articles on 'St Cuthbert's in the Past' while before that, I relayed news on behalf of the 40th Edinburgh Boys' Brigade Company in which I served for many years.

This magazine is designed to be of interest to you all, both congregation and readers from afar and I would encourage you to send in anything you think may be of interest to the Magazine email address which is shown on page 18. Alternatively, you may hand in articles for inclusion into the Church office.

You will not notice many changes in this edition from previous editions but I wish to include a feature article in each publication, either relating to St Cuthbert's itself or to events, buildings or businesses in the locality. The famous actress, Kim Cattrall and why13 and 14. If you have any thoughts as to future articles, please get in touch with me.

Throughout the Magazine, there are several references to fund raising and donations having been made to worthy causes. It is quite magnificent that the total fund raising referred to in this edition amounts to over £8,300 – a fantastic sum – and that is not counting the various donations of food etc on top. Well done, everyone.

REPORTS FROM ST CUTHBERT'S

OASIS: Helping the Homeless via Fresh Start

In 2017 St Cuthbert's passed to Fresh Start donations totalling £1,004. Of that amount £817 was donated by the business community in Edinburgh's city centre arising from the following events organised by OASIS in partnership with business matters and Work Place Chaplaincy Scotland:

Community Easter Service £95
Inter-Office Quiz Night £220
Community Carol Service £502

In addition to this, people in the business community responded throughout the year to special appeals by Fresh Start for specific items for their starter packs. The monthly OASIS Newsletter keeps the business folk aware of the items needed for starter packs which currently are: dusters, tinned meat (ham, tuna, meatballs, beef stew etc.), bedding, towels, saucepans, cooking utensils, plates, for their starter packs. Such items can be handed into the church by anyone who can help.

Helping the homeless in association with Edinburgh City Centre Churches Together (ECCCT)

ECCCT Homeless Group will host a business breakfast in St John's on 25 April to look at how West End businesses can help with the homeless problem. The Rt Rev Russell Barr, a member of the Government Task Force, will be the main speaker. OASIS in partnership with business matters and Work Place Chaplaincy Scotland (WPCS) will be supporting this event in any way they can.

soul space

soul space, which is held on the first Wednesday on the month, continues to attract a small number of business people, especially to its 1 p.m. reflection. The overall theme remains "For everything there is a season, a time for every activity under heaven" based on Ecclesiastes 3:1 and on Wednesday 7 March the reflection was 'Lent'. An additional soul space was held on Wednesday 28 March when the reflection was, appropriately, on 'Holy Week'.

Community Easter Service

This service was led by the Rev. Peter Sutton. It was organised by OASIS in partnership with business matters and WPCS and hosted by St Cuthbert's. It was followed by a light lunch, of soup, rolls, coffee/tea and biscuits. The catering was provided by the St Cuthbert's catering team which is second to none.

Pilgrimage to Dysart

It seems incredible to have lived in Edinburgh most of my life and yet only recently discovered Dysart, across the Forth Estuary from Edinburgh, just beyond Kirkcaldy and a mere one hour's drive away. This came about because, along with other St Cuthbert's folk, I attended one of the Rev. David Denniston's Seminars about the Celtic Saints, this one being about St Serf who was venerated in western Fife.

You can read all about St Serf's Church on the Trusts' website. <http://www.dysart-trust.org.uk/stserf/stserf.htm> but as a taster here is one small paragraph: "The remains of the church are thought to date from the early 16th century, but the first church in Dysart was dedicated to St Servanus or Serf, the 8th century holy man who took up residence in a nearby cave, a place of religious retreat called in Latin a "deserta". The name Dysart came from this, corrupted and misspelt over the years. A church on this site was re-dedicated by Bishop David De Bernham on the 26th March 1245.

On entering Dysart Parish Church I was immediately struck by the distinctive arrangement of the window arches and curved wall and of the church being filled with dazzling, God given, light pouring in from all these windows. I learnt that in 1901 Dysart was visited by the noted architect and artist Charles Rennie Mackintosh, who painted a mural in the north transept of the church. Long lost, this was rediscovered in 2004 and returned to view. The Millennium Windows, on each side of the pulpit, were designed by Catriona R MacKinnon in 2000 and show colourful images of Dysart throughout the years. These beautifully constructed examples of stained glass in the modern idiom include The Burgh Window and The Harbour Window. The rainbow which spans both windows, symbolises God's commitment to man in peace and hope for the future. All amazing, very beautiful and well worth a visit. Above all, however, Dysart Kirk is a place of Christian worship and fellowship and we were given the traditional warm welcome which all visitors always receive.

TOGETHER Homeless Team

As a key part of our Christian Mission here at St Cuthbert's over the years, we have been an enthusiastic and helpful part of the team with St Andrew's & St George's West and St John's. The team meets to agree the programme for the year and we are delighted that Tony Bryer the former Workplace Chaplain for the West End is the Chair.

The most recent part of the programme has been the annual Christmas appeal which again has produced really wonderful results. This enables us to make a strong contribution to a number of fine local charities whose work makes such a difference to so many who may be homeless or have other needs of care and support.

The good news is that a total of £3,178 was donated which is an amazing sum, so many thanks to all members and also to those who donated Christmas goodies which were sent to the Edinburgh City Mission.

Donations of at least £500 have been sent to the following very worthy causes: The Rock Trust, Cyrenians, Streetwork, Salvation Army and Souper Saturday.

Here is how our financial support helps:

Cover a wide range of essential care and support in our local community. Assisting young people who are homeless or at risk of being so with accommodation, support and getting into employment for a better future. (Rock Trust)

To transform the lives of those on the edge who are homeless and vulnerable with family and people, home and housing, work and skills to transform lives. (Cyrenians)

Give ongoing support for people facing extremely difficult circumstances through expert professional and flexible ongoing support to access the various things they need (Streetwork).

Provide a daily drop-in service, safe refuge, warm meals and fellowship and access to personal laundry and hygiene facilities. Also advice and assistance to ensure problems with welfare and other difficulties receive careful attention. (Salvation Army Niddry Street)

Welcome homeless and vulnerable people by providing a meal and friendly social interaction in a relaxed and non-judgemental environment. (Souper Saturday).

Thank you again for your support as we look forward to continuing to play our part at St Cuthbert's here in the centre of our city...it does really make a difference.

Gordon Wemyss

Fresh Start

Fresh Start will be grateful for our help with the following: tinned meat (ham, 'tuna, beef stew), pots and pans, plates, cooking utensils, bedding, towels, yellow dusters ... indeed, anything that can help make a house a home. However, Fresh Start does not accept cushions.

Ben Williams

Christian Aid

Similar to our commitment to helping the homeless in our city, St Cuthbert's is proud of its tradition in being a supporter of the work of Christian Aid down the years.

We are part of the TOGETHER Christian Aid Group where we join with our fellow city centre congregations to learn more the world wide work of Christian Aid and to hold friendly events to raise donations, this need is always there and we are pleased to play our part.

Christian Aid is a movement for justice joining with communities in 36 countries around the world who invest themselves in a future free from poverty. In 2017 Christian Aid Scotland spoke to hundreds of church, schools and youth groups supporting volunteers and campaigners to take action against injustice.

2018 sees the 60th year of Christian Aid week which takes place from 13th to 19th May. The theme this year is to provide funds and support to build new homes in communities at risk of disaster.

Just one example for the longer term. The Scottish Government has established a Humanitarian Emergency Fund. From that fund Christian Aid has received funding to support Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh. Providing shelter, water, sanitation, hygiene and health facilities to those fleeing Myanmar.

It is good that we can commit ourselves to continuing to support Christian Aid here at St Cuthbert's and we look forward to sharing our friendship with our TOGETHER congregations in this part of our joint mission in our city centre.

Please keep an eye out for the further publicity for Christian Aid week in May and thanks for your interest.

Tuesday afternoon group

Dear Friends,

Our second 'term' got off to a good start with Walter Crosby taking us to Assisi followed by a happy Burns' afternoon. Unfortunately, one of our speakers discovered their date was no longer suitable and we decided to re-order the final two dates. Then the Tuesday meeting following the snow storm had to be cancelled as, though the storm had all but passed, at that point, it did seem a wise precaution.

We did however have a most interesting up-date from Mary's Meals and we are looking forward to our next meeting on Tuesday 13 March, when Simon Fairnie will present his talk on "Fisherwomen, part II" and we have our AGM on Tuesday 27 March.

A final update will be presented in the next issue of the magazine.

On the Button ... again!

Following the success of Creative Together's last fundraising event which enabled us to give over £4,200 to Marie Curie, we are hoping to repeat the event, probably in 2019. Yet again, we are asking you to look out your button boxes and donate buttons.

Please contact Maggie Romanis for more information.

Maggie Romanis

Friends of St Cuthbert's

First please accept my apologies that there was no update for the Friends in the last magazine. The item was omitted in error.

The Annual General Meeting and lunch were held on Sunday 24 September 2017. The Very Revd. Dr Russell Barr was our guest preacher. Although it was a smaller gathering than usual everyone seemed to enjoy the day.

On 5th December 2017, a small group visited the museum commemorating the War Poets, Siegfried Sassoon and Wilfred Owen at Napier University's Craiglockhart Campus. This was organized at short notice and it was therefore difficult to get information to everyone.

It is hoped to make a trip to Durham Cathedral perhaps in June to visit the exhibition about St Cuthbert. Arrangements are at an early stage but we will probably travel by train.

If anyone is interested in visiting either the museum at Napier University or Durham Cathedral please contact the Minister or myself.

The provisional date for this year's Annual General Meeting is September 23. Please pencil this into your diary.

News from Edinburgh City Centre Churches Together (ECCCT)

St John's Episcopal Church

We send our good wishes to St John's as it celebrates its 200th anniversary. The actual date of the bicentenary was the 18th March but owing to the ongoing building works, the main celebration / party has been deferred to 6th May, which is the date of St John's Patronal Festival.

During the year, St John's will host several lectures on topics relating to the Church and a ceilidh marathon is being planned – they are aiming to dance a total of 200 hours with 100 people dancing for two hours each.

A book of the history of the Church is being commissioned. However, their archives are not accessible at present because of the building works and so publication will revert to later in the year.

St Andrew's and St George's West

Bicentenary celebrations seem all the rage just now because St Andrew's and St George's have unearthed an item connected with the Church's own 200th anniversary in 1984. A video of the special bicentenary service, conducted in the December with the then Moderator, Rev. John Paterson has resurfaced together with a seven minute video of an Outreach Church Appeal. StAGW mention that this was the start of what we now know as the Workplace Chaplaincy.

1993 was the 150th anniversary of the Disruption and a few tapes have also been found of an address by Prof Stewart Brown of New College of the history behind the causes of the Disruption.

FEATURED ARTICLE

The US President visits St Cuthbert's

Sadly, it was not Donald Trump, Barack Obama nor any other living President but the fictional Helen Tyler (the first Lady US President!) in BBC Four's Swedish drama Modus whose role is played by the well-known actress Kim Cattrall. Kim, also famous for her role as Samantha Jones in the Sex and the City comedy and winner of a Golden Globe, who visited St Cuthbert's in February.

It was, though, courtesy of an altogether different acting role that brought Ms Cattrall to Edinburgh in the first place. She starred in the BBC drama The Witness for the Prosecution, originally written in 1925 by the Queen of Crime Agatha Christie, playing the part of Emily French, a 'rich but restless' heiress who met a gruesome end, in typical Christie style. Originally published as "Traitor's Hands", the story was published under its current title in 1933 and is widely regarded as one of Christie's most accomplished plays.

Though never having read any of Christie's books prior to the production, Ms Cattrall became very passionate about the life of the author and her interest was further aroused when the BBC asked her to narrate a documentary on the prolific author. As members of St Cuthbert's will know, the Church does have a connection with Agatha Christie – she was married here in September 1930 to the archaeologist Max Mallowan. That connection brought her to St Cuthbert's in early February when Peter showed her round the Church, and also the Memorial Chapel.

At the time of the visit, news had just been announced that Kim's younger brother, Christopher, had died in Canada. So impressed was she with the intimacy and ambience of the Memorial Chapel that she asked Peter if he would conduct a memorial service to her brother in the Chapel. During the service, she lit a candle in memory of "our brother, son, father and husband".

After the service, Ms Cattrall thanked Peter for conducting the service and thanked her 'wonderful, joyful Scottish friends for making us laugh today'. It was expected that this private ceremony would remain so, but news was quickly released on her 'Instagram' account together with the accompanying photo which made the national press headlines.

From Kim Cattrall's Instagram account (kimcattrall):

"Thank you to St Cuthbert's Parish Minister in Edinburgh, Reverend Peter Sutton and our wonderful, joyful Scottish friends for making us laugh today. Lighting a candle in memory of our brother, son, father, & husband, Christopher Adrian Alexander Cattrall. Forever in our thoughts. RIP xo"
